FRIEDA SCOTT CHARITABLE TRUST

Grant funding from Frieda Scott Charitable Trust

Registered Charity No: 221593

Organisations supporting people in challenging circumstances across South Lakeland and Westmorland can apply for grants of up to £20,000 says Helen Carter from the Frieda Scott Charitable Trust.

“The money can be used in a number of ways. Previous recipients include Kendal based Manna House, which supports the homeless, vulnerably housed or lonely, and Temple Sowerby’s Victory Hall, which needed help with damp proofing and the installation of a stairlift”, explains director Helen Carter. The Trust welcomes enquiries from both well-established and new groups which directly deliver programmes and services for the benefit of local communities.

To be eligible, organisations should be either registered charities, formally constituted community groups or not for profit organisations providing demonstrable community benefit across the South Lakeland District area or the old County of Westmorland. Further information on eligibility can be found on the website – <https://www.friedascott.org.uk>

“The application process starts with a phone call, to discuss plans and eligibility” continues Helen Carter. “And we’ll help throughout the process.”

Anyone interested in applying for funding should call Celia Forsyth on 01539 742608 or email her at celia@fcsct.org.uk.

I've just been offered a new job and now I need to tell my current employer. The new company wants me to start as soon as possible. The problem is, we're already a bit short-staffed where I am now and I don't know how soon I'll be allowed to leave. How should I bring all this up with my boss?

The time between telling your employer you've found a new position and actually leaving is known as your notice period. If you've been in your current job for less than a month, you won't have to give any notice (unless your contract says otherwise). If it's more than a month, you'll have to give at least one week's notice. Your contract should make it clear exactly how long is expected. If you don't have a contract, and your employer has no written record of you agreeing to a notice period, you should give at least one week's notice.

Wait until your new employer has confirmed your employment by giving you a start date before handing in your resignation. It's then best to resign in writing (email is fine), so that you have a record of the date you told your employer. On the Citizens Advice website we have a page on handing in your notice with tips on how to write this letter.

You can work longer notice than your contract says, if you can agree it with your employer. If you're keen to move on sooner rather than later, it may also be possible to negotiate a shorter notice period than your contract says. If you want to go down this route, it can be useful to reassure your current employer that you will tackle any urgent work before finishing.

Fixed-term contracts are a bit different, as you won't need to give notice if you intend to leave on the last day of contract. Leaving early would usually mean giving at least one week's notice, unless your contract says otherwise.

If you have unused paid holiday days you should speak to your employer about either taking these during the notice period or being paid for them.

Finally, sometimes people can change their mind about moving jobs or find their circumstances alter. If this happens to you, you should speak to your current employer to see what the options are and if you can stay in your current role. If you need to speak to an adviser, call South Lakes Citizens Advice

Wellbeing Hub

Your GP isn't the only person who can help you feel better- you can improve your health and wellbeing by meeting with a Social Prescriber or Health and Wellbeing Coach.

What is social prescribing?

We know that taking care of your health involves more than just medicine. That's where social prescribing comes in. It starts with a conversation. It might be a conversation with the GP or another member of the practice team. They can refer you to our social prescribing team or you can contact us directly.

We spend time with you exploring what activities and /or local support could improve your health and wellbeing.

Our team can help you with a range of issues including:

- social isolation
- loneliness
- emotional wellbeing
- healthy lifestyle choices
- getting out and about
- life changing events-birth, retirement, bereavement
- long term health conditions
- loss of confidence
- accessing work, training and volunteering
- poor health linked to housing

What are the benefits?

- improve your mental and physical health
- meet new people
- increase confidence and self esteem
- better quality of life
- get involved in your community

Who is it for?

This service is free and available to patients registered at

- Ash Trees Surgery
- Park View Surgery

How do I access this?

It is simple - just talk to any member of the health care team or reception staff at your surgery.

Or you can also get in touch directly on:

HANDY PERSON SCHEME HELPS PEOPLE MAINTAIN INDEPENDENT LIVING

Residents in need of practical help around their homes are being reminded that a free council-run service could provide support.

South Lakeland District Council's (SLDC) Handy Person Scheme offers assistance with simple but essential jobs around the home to help people maintain independent living and quality of life.

The service provides help with anything from changing a lightbulb to putting up shelving, installing hand rails and small repairs such as unblocking sinks, as well as fitting curtain rails and moving heavy items.

The scheme, run in partnership with Barrow-based repairs and service company Growing Concerns, also enables the fitting of minor security measures including; a key safe, door viewer and chain.

The work is free of charge except for the cost of materials, unless they have been supplied as part of a scheme with a partner agency.

Councillor Suzie Pye, portfolio holder for health, wellbeing and poverty alleviation, said: "We have been running the Handy Person Scheme successfully for a number of years in partnership with Growing Concerns and have received great feedback about the service they provide. It's a fantastic scheme and vital to those who don't have family or friends nearby to help with those odd jobs round the house you can't do yourself.

"Helping people in our communities to be independent is a priority for South Lakeland District Council and this service is a fantastic way to help achieve that. I would urge anybody who thinks they, or somebody they know, would benefit from this scheme to get in touch."

Assistance under the Handy Person Scheme is available to people who are unable to undertake the task themselves and have no other person available to help them with the task and reside in the South Lakeland area, who:

- are aged 65 and over; or
- have a disability or are vulnerable; or
- are being discharged or have recently been discharged from hospital; or
- are at high risk of falling due to a medical condition; or
- potential victims of crime, who are referred by the police.

Works are limited to a maximum of three hours on site if one handy person visits, or 1.5 hours if two handy people visit. Gardening and decorating are not included. Eligible households can use the service up to six times a year.

The scheme is supported by Cumbria Constabulary and Age UK, and the fitting of minor security measures is also included in the scheme.

David Shields, who runs Growing Concerns with his wife, Marie, said: "We are proud to have worked with South Lakeland District Council for the past 17 years. The range of work we can carry out is wide and makes such a difference to our clients.

"To see how grateful they are for what the scheme can provide is better than anything."

Further details of the scheme, including qualifying criteria and time/usage constraints, are available on the council's website at www.southlakeland.gov.uk, via telephone on 01539 733 333 or via email on housingstandards@southlakeland.gov.uk.

Referrals should also be made via that telephone number or email address. Referrals can be made on behalf of someone else with their permission.

Notes

Work available through the scheme includes:

- Fitting of minor security measures such as spy-holes, door and window locks and security lighting;
- Fitting key safes, door bells or telephone extension leads;
- Changing light bulbs and fluorescent tubes;
- Fitting plugs/fuses or fixing down/making safe trailing or loose wires;
- Putting up curtain rails, curtains or blinds;
- Installing internal and external grab rails;
- Erecting shelves or affixing coat hooks;
- Fixing down or trimming loose or hazardous carpets;
- Moving furniture within the home;
- Replacing toilet seats or sealant around sinks/baths;
- Unblocking sinks and repairing minor leaks;
- Replacing tap washers, cistern washers and ball valves or draining/bleeding radiators;
- Initial help following hospital discharge (for example, resetting heating controls);
- Minor repairs to gates, fences and paths to prevent tripping hazards or to help secure the property.
